

NEIGHBORHOOD NH HOUSE

2021 Annual Report

About Us

Neighborhood House is a community center working with families in Louisville's west end. Our members – children and families of all ages – are part of a community rich in creativity, kindness and resilience. We support our members' aspirations through excellent programs, help with basic needs, and a place to pursue their dreams.

At Neighborhood House, a community becomes a chosen family, children become the leaders of tomorrow and everyone works toward a brighter future, together.

You may have noticed the new logo we announced in 2021.

We love it, and we hope you do too.

This year, Neighborhood House has a new look and a renewed spirit. The past two years have been tough, and we've learned a lot about resilience, commitment, and love. We were reminded that we really are all in this together, and that we belong to one another.

We were reminded that while services and programs are important, they do not change lives. Relationships change lives, and hope changes futures. The work we do at Neighborhood House is rooted in relationships and rooted in hope.

Thanks to you, we can continue to be a beacon of hope for future generations.

Child Development Center

Neighborhood House's youngest members learn through play and exploration in Reggio Emilia classrooms. Planned activities promote their educational and social-emotional growth, helping ensure they are ready for Kindergarten and beyond.

Building strong relationships with families is at the core of what we do. Family involvement is encouraged, and each child receives two home visits annually.

Our families gain access to important screenings, early interventions and a supportive community of childcare experts.

We provided an exceptional early childhood education to 62 children in our Child Development Center.

In 2021, 100% of our graduates were Kindergarten ready.

*Compared to the rate of 52% of all children entering JCPS.

Youth Development Program

Neighborhood House's youth find meaningful connections with staff and members of all ages. Together, they discover new talents and passions, support one another, and explore the world around them.

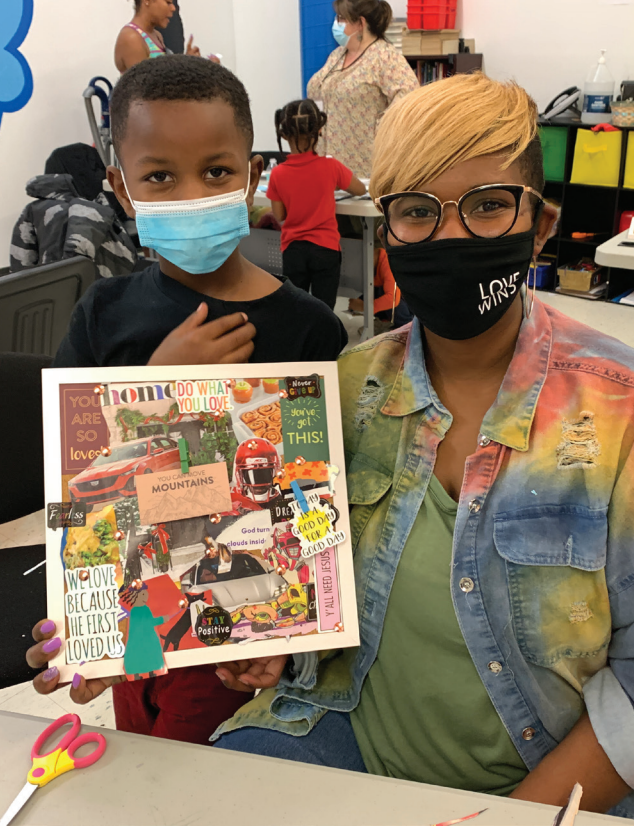

Beyond any programming or experience, the supportive relationships fostered at Neighborhood House are invaluable. The importance of caring adults in the life of a child cannot be overstated, and the impact has the potential to make lifelong change.

More than 100 school-age children took part in Neighborhood House's Youth Development Program in 2021.

73% of active youth members demonstrated gains in social-emotional well being.

82% of active youth members demonstrated academic gains.

Families

Each child in our Youth Development Program is paired with a Youth Advocate. These important members of our team strive to support families by strengthening communication and positive relationships between children, their adults and the schools they attend.

Our Family Programs team plan fun, engaging activities. They have provided workshops on home buying and credit building, as well as fun activities for families to attend together. Some of our favorites included game night, creating vision boards and making healthy meals in cooking class.
